

HOME HAPPENINGS

Hardy spring flowers are beginning to make their appearance on lawns.

The high school boys and girls are patriotic. They are all wearing small flags.

These are the days when the flag should be displayed at every home and business place.

Recent rains started the grass and some lawns about town have a beautiful covering of green.

Federal agents acting with the police arrested two Germans Thursday in Youngstown on suspicion of being spies.

The Builders' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. C. Skaggs Thursday afternoon, April 12.

The ladies of Zion Reformed church will serve an Easter supper at the church Saturday evening to which all are invited.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will serve an Easter supper in the church dining room Saturday evening and the public is cordially invited. Expense, 25c.

The ordinance prohibiting chickens running at large in the village is now in force and poultry owners who fail to observe it are likely to be called to account.

Arthur Konkile has traded his property on Lisbon street to Luther Musselman for a farm in Virginia. Mr. Konkile and family expect to remove south next fall.

W. E. Smith, in charge of drilling operations for the Canfield Gas & Electric Co., has started another gas well near Lewis Manchester's residence on the Salem road.

James McKay died Saturday at the infirmary, aged 82. Most of his life was spent in and near Youngstown. Funeral services were held Wednesday and the remains were taken to Obitown for burial.

At the meeting of Council Monday night a substitute ordinance granting the Canfield Gas & Electric Co. a rate increase for gas was given its first reading. The matter of improving the roads on several streets was considered.

Thomas Ankeny, who has been suffering for some time with a cancer on his neck and face, was reported Thursday to be in a serious condition. The cancer has eaten into his throat so that he cannot eat and it is only with great difficulty that he can swallow even water.

An Easter cantata, "The Conqueror," will be sung by the Christian church choir next Sunday evening. This will take the place of the regular evening service. No charge at the door but a silver offering will be taken some time during the evening. Everybody invited.

Carl A. Ridenour of Vandergrift, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth Tate of Canfield called at the Presbyterian parsonage on Court street last Saturday afternoon and were united in marriage by Rev. T. L. Kiernan. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. Ella Tate. The couple will reside in Vandergrift.

An all-day field meet of the Mahoning County Horticultural Society will be held at the home of E. I. Rolter in Green township Thursday, April 12, and it will be one of the most important of the year. There will be talks on horticulture, reports of committees, and pruning and spraying demonstrations. A basket dinner will be enjoyed at noon.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kohler of this township celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. With them were their four sons and one daughter and a number of relatives and friends who assisted materially in making the day a memorable one for the worthy couple. Mr. Kohler is 67 years old and his wife 76. They received many appropriate gifts which will serve to remind them of their golden wedding.

At the Presbyterian congregation meeting last Sunday morning the resignation of Rev. T. L. Kiernan, pastor of the church the past three years, was accepted. Evidence of appreciation of the work done by Mr. Kiernan during his pastorate was shown by the gift of a considerable sum of money Mr. Kiernan has accepted the call extended by the East Palestine Presbyterian church and will enter upon his new work next Sunday.

Dale V. Fay and Miss Villa Konkile, well known young people of the village, went to Pittsburgh Monday and were united in marriage by Rev. Maithland Alexander, pastor of the first Presbyterian church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Konkile and for some time has been a popular school teacher. At present being in charge of the school in the lower district, Ellsworth township. The groom is the local representative of the Standard Oil Co.

Mrs. Amelia Dakin, widow of Albert Dakin, one of the oldest residents of Ellsworth, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Resler, of Bright's disease. She was born in England 88 years ago and came with her parents to America when ten years old. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Resler of Ellsworth and Mrs. Emma Seeger of Alliance, and two stepsons, Will Dakin of Warren and C. A. Dakin of Burton. Funeral services will be held from the Ellsworth Methodist church, of which the deceased was long a member, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

WORDS OF APPRECIATION
Editor Dispatch:—Permit me to express my appreciation of the courtesy extended to me by the Dispatch while a resident of Canfield and pastor of the Presbyterian church. You have always been more than willing to give to the public the doings of the church and publish items of news when available. One cannot fail to appreciate the manner and character of the news, gleaned throughout the county, that appears in the paper—so free from the unclean, the unwholesome, and the unnecessary. My best wishes in the continuance of the high ideal in news giving, and a full measure of health and prosperity to all members of the Dispatch family.

Yours kindly,
T. L. KIERNAN.

The first important step in gardening is to look about and decide what neighbors you are going to borrow the tools from this year.

COUNTY SCHOOL COLUMN

The week of April 9th to 13th is bound to be a red letter week in the history of the schools of the county. This is the week that Edward Avis of Enfield, Conn., the great bird mimic, will be with us for instruction in the different schools and the following stated entertainments: Monday evening, the 9th, at Canfield, Tuesday, the 10th, at Austintown, Wednesday, the 11th, at Damascus, Thursday, the 12th, at Science Hill. In addition to the instructions given in the schools and these stated public entertainments, Mr. Avis will also conduct the teachers on bird trips.

This is a fitting preparation for Arbor Day, which comes Friday, the 13th. The Arbor Day manuals this year are the best ever. They arrived Thursday and were sent out promptly to the teachers. We predict that Friday, the 13th, will be just a little the biggest Arbor Day that the schools of the county have ever known.

Friday closes the last month of the county spelling contest. Saturday, the 21st, at 10:30 a. m. at Rayen school, has been set as the day when the perfect spellers will meet to determine the grand championship of the county. This will represent the county's fourth annual spelling contest.

Friday evening, April 6th, at New Middletown, the Springfield township schools will hold their second annual declamatory contest.

On Friday evening, April 13th, the schools of Coitsville township will hold their third annual declamatory contest at Science Hill.

Friday evening, the 13th, and Saturday, the 14th, the spring session of the North Eastern Ohio Teachers' Association will meet at Warren.

The instructions of Jesse Whonsetter of Ohio State University were very much appreciated by the ten different high schools in which he was able to give instructions during his five days stay in the county from the 26th to the 30th. About 250 high school boys and girls were permitted to receive these instructions from Mr. Whonsetter.

As the Lily Grows
The scent of the lilies is bound and hidden,
Its incense rises in bordered aisles;
There's the promise of spring in the sunlight golden,
There's the joy of spring in the children's smiles;
And yesterday's toil and hurried clamor,
The city's throng and the city's strife,
Its cluttered scene and its fevered glamour,
That make us the struggle we dare call life.

We leave it all at some fair, dim portal,
(The lilies gleam in the bordered aisles)
And oh, the message and gift immortal
("There's the joy of spring in the children's smiles")
And we hear of that far-off Syrian garden,
Where Mary's Master stilled her tears,
And the angel words of hope and pardon:
"For He is risen: He is not here!"

Risen! Sweet Christ of the distant ages!
Like Mary, we listen and know the voice;
And more than the story of halcyon days,
The touch of His love and life to rejoice.
For in our sadness of some tomorrow,
If we hear His answer we lose all care,
And above forgotten tears and sorrow—
The scent of the lilies shall linger there!

IRISH EASTER LEGEND
That the Sun Dances on the Sea on the Day Commemorative of the Resurrection is Simple Truth.

AN IRISH legend runs to the effect that on Easter day the sun dances on the sea; and the legend is true. The writer knows it.

He has seen this phenomenon when as a child he climbed from his little farmhouse which was his home, a matter of a couple of miles to the top of a rugged mountain overlooking the Irish sea. This phenomenon can be seen any Easter day when the skies are bright. All necessary is to be on some commanding height as the sun pokes his head out of the sea to the east.

The British Isles give expression to the thought that April showers bring May flowers, and it is not every Easter day that the sun rises in a clear sky. That is the difference between the British Isles and California. Easter day may come any one of the 20 days following the 25th of March. No matter how early it comes in southern California the sun generally comes up in a clear sky. Environment has caused all evolution, and is causing it still.

These clear skies account for the way Californians celebrate Easter day. They have at Riverside on Rubidoux mountain a great cross, where annually at sunrise on Easter day thousands are accustomed to gather to see the sun rise on the mountain tops and dance in the heavens. The hearts of the thousands who assemble on that mountain top under the blazing cross dance with the sun. The Hebrew prophet said: "I hear the sound of feet of the rain." Why not then see the feet of the sun dance upon the sea or mountain top? On Easter of last year it is said that 20,000 people assembled on Rubidoux mountain, where their hearts danced with joy at the thought of the resurrection.

Those who invented the Rubidoux mountain Easter festival set an example that is being followed by many others. April showers are rare things in southern California, and one may plan for weeks ahead for a sunrise festival on Easter day. It may be expected that this custom will grow and prove another attraction to the land of sunshine and flowers.

Easter Cleaning in Rome.
In Rome and other large Italian cities there is a great house-cleaning at Easter, and hawkers appear in the streets selling long-handled, roughly-made brooms from which to brush spiders' webs from lofty ceiling corners. This Easter cleaning is a survival of the purification, part of the Jewish Passover.

NOTICE IN REGARD TO RIDING ON THE VILLAGE SIDEWALKS

The ordinance which prohibits the riding of bicycles, tricycles, etc., upon the sidewalks of the village, also forbids the use of the sidewalks by children's "express wagons" for any purpose or in any manner whatsoever. Such in substance is the opinion and ruling of Village Solicitor E. R. Ziegler. I would therefore call upon all parents of children owning and operating such "express wagons," to impress upon their children the importance of the observance of this ordinance and to warn them of the consequences resulting from its violation. The minimum fine for said violation is $2. I have no authority or power to alter or suspend any of the provisions of said ordinance. A strict enforcement is desired by Village Council.
